

Carolyn Lankford

Classic Oil Paintings

Carolyn paints to capture the soul of a place, to communicate its spirit and her joy in it, to strike a responsive chord so that the viewer feels they, too, knows this place.

All the works of this New Mexico painter reveal love of color and texture.

Her work is described as painterly and sensitive, yet realistic.

Carolyn resides by the Rio Grande in southern New Mexico where she spends long hours at her easel with husband and cats as companions.
